ALFRED CENTRE, ALLEGANY CO., N. Y.

1894 - 95.

This Institution, with eighteen instructors, offers equal privileges to both young men and young women, in academic, undergraduate, and graduate studies.

For admission to the academic department. students must present the Regents' Preliminary Academic Certificate, or pass satisfactory examinations in the required subjects

There are three academic or college-preparatory courses, corresponding, respectively, to the Regents' Classical, Latin-Academic, and Scientific Certificates, with one additional term in English.

One-quarter of the college work, the more advanced, is elective; and there are three college courses, the Classical; the Philosophical, in which Greek is omitted; and the Scientific, in which both Latin and Greek are omitted.

There is a Theological School; and instruction is also offered in the following departments:

Graduate—in advanced liberal studies; Industrial Mechanics; Art; Music; and Physical Culture. And Teachers' Training Classes are organized for the special benefit of public school teachers.

(OVER)

The location is in a beautiful valley; and the expenses are moderate.

The establishment of a summer school is contemplated, the opportunity for out-door scientific study being especially good; and the Boarding Hall is opened, with accommodations for any who seek a quiet and restful summer resort.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY, founded in 1836, looks back upon a career of sustained and widespread usefulness.

For nearly seventy years its constant and earnest aim has been to place within the reach of the deserving, educational advantages of the highest type, and in every part of the country there may be found many whom it has materially assisted to go out into the world to broader lives of useful and honored citizenship.

During all these years the trustees and management of Alfred University have made the most earnest efforts to assist worthy seekers for education, and, in this endeavor, have received the moral and financial support and assistance of our best people.

To-day this University not only offers educational facilities of the most notable character, but the surroundings and the atmosphere are such as tend to foster and stimulate those qualities in the young man or woman which most nearly meet the ideal of true Americanism in its highest development.

From time to time competitive free scholarships have been established and are being maintained, and the good thus done has been almost beyond calculation.

At the present time the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Centennial Fund is in process of formation—a plan not only unique, but one which affords an opportunity to everybody, rich or poor, to become personally interested in Alfred University and to aid in its lofty educational purposes. This is called the One Dollar plan, and contributions ranging all the way from one cent to one hundred dollars have been received.

To this fund you are earnestly requested to contribute.

The trustees issue to each subscriber of one dollar or more a certificate. Smaller or larger amounts may be subscribed, payable at stated times, as may be convenient, but when any contribution reaches the sum of one dollar, the certificate is issued.

The contributor of one dollar is made an annual member of the Centennial Fund; the contributor of ten dollars is made a Decennial member; the contributor of thirty-six dollars is made a Fellow for life, while the contributor of one hundred dollars is made a Patron.

SPECIAL FEATURE.

By the terms of a resolution adopted by the Executive Committee of the University, it is provided that for every one thousand dollars subscribed and paid into the Centennial Fund, from any county in any state or territory, free tuition be granted, to one student for the Freshman year of the College, upon the following conditions :—

“ The Student shall be a resident of that county ; he shall be fully prepared for college and the appointment shall be made after a competitive examination, to the person having the highest standing.

“ A registration fee of two dollars ($2.00) shall be paid by the appointee.

“ In the event that no candidate shall appear for examination in any year, the appointee of the previous year may be granted free tuition for such year upon payment of said registration fee.”

Your attention is directed to the fact that under the provisions of this resolution any money which you may subscribe will, in conjunction with that subscribed by others in your county, become a part of a fund which will forever be available in the way of assisting some one in your own vicinity.

It should be additional pleasure to subscribers to feel that they are not only contributing to the cause of better education, but that their money will be used in a manner which will be of lasting benefit to the community in which they reside.

Of course, it is to the interest of the University that as many large subscriptions to this Fund be obtained as is possible, but at the same time the trustees wish that no person should feel that small contributions are not welcome or that the interest of those who are not in a position to contribute largely will not be appreciated.

Whether your regular contribution to this Fund be large or small, you will have the gratification of knowing that you are connected with, and financially interested in a successful attempt to place the immense advantages of higher education in the possession of those who might not otherwise be able to secure them, and are, in this manner, doing an amount of good to your fellow citizens and to your country which may be beyond human estimation.

The card enclosed herewith is so arranged as to enable you to subscribe any amount which you may desire to contribute to the Centennial Fund, payable at such times and for such a period as is most convenient to you.

TRUSTEES OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY,
Alfred, N. Y.

THE ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLAR CENTENNIAL FUND FOR ALFRED UNIVERSITY.

When Alfred University shall celebrate its centennial in 1936 it should have a million dollars of endowment and property. It opened in 1836 as a select school without a dollar of endowment or a dollar's worth of property. It was incorporated as Alfred Academy in 1843. It was chartered and incorporated as Alfred University in 1857. Its material equipment then consisted of three wooden buildings and about ten thousand dollars of endowment. From 1857 to 1887 it added two new brick buildings, viz., Ladies Hall and Kenyon Memorial Hall, costing about $25,000 each, and about $100,000 of endowment.

Since 1887, it has added two new buildings, viz., the Allen Steinheim Museum, through the generosity of President and Mrs. Allen, a building of stone, costing about $10,000, and the Babcock Hall of Physics, a brick building costing about $15,000, and equipped with $10,000 worth of apparatus, the gift of the late Professor William A. Rogers. It has also added since 1887, about $150,000 of endowment. The aggregate value of the present endowment and property of the University is $425,000. Aside from this equipment, the State of New York has appropriated $20,000 to establish at Alfred University a State School of Clay Working and Ceramics, and has placed this school on a basis for permanent state maintenance by making it a state school.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Alfred University, held at University Bank, January 29, 1899, the Treasurer presented the following resolution, which on his motion was approved by the Committee and recommended to the Board of Trustees for their adoption:

Whereas, Alfred University was founded in the year one thousand, eight hundred and thirty-six, and now holds approximately four hundred thousand dollars, consisting of buildings, grounds, equipment, apparatus and endowment, and

Whereas, In the opinion of the present Board of Trustees a plan should be adopted to secure a sum which, added to the present amount, will give Alfred University ONE MILLION DOLLARS, when it shall celebrate its Centennial year, in June, 1936, and

Whereas, The Trustees believe that the same true spirit which has achieved such notable triumphs in the past, will continue, and that the friends of Alfred will work with the same energy and enthusiasm, which will secure the desired result, therefore be it

Resolved, First, That we open our books for a popular subscription, to which all shall be asked to contribute, to be known as the "ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLAR CENTENNIAL FUND," the income of which shall be applicable to defray general expenses, and Second, That we form fifty groups of One Thousand Dollar Scholarships, ten in each group, numbered one to fifty, inclusive.

Third, That arrangements be made to place a Field Secretary at work at as early a date as practicable.

The above resolution was adopted at the annual meeting of the Trustees of Alfred University, held Tuesday June 20, 1899.

Within the year a large number of persons have contributed to the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Centennial Fund, and such enthusiasm has been shown that many requests have been made for a classification of the contributors to this fund, which will bring all contributors into a closer identification with it.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, held May 2, 1900, the following classification was adopted:

1. Those who contribute to the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Centennial Fund in cash the sum of one dollar for each year from the foundation of the University in 1836 to the Centennial Year, 1936, shall be designated as "Patrons of the Centennial Fund."

2. Those who contribute to the fund in cash the sum of one dollar from the date of the subscription to the Centennial Year, 1936, shall be designated as "Fellows for Life of the Centennial Fund."

3. Those who contribute to the fund in cash the sum of ten dollars shall be designated as "Decennial Members of the Centennial Fund."

4. Those who contribute to the fund in cash one dollar in any one year shall be designated as "Annual Members of the Centennial Fund."

Following is a list of contributors from the adoption of the plan to June 1, 1900.
